

Supporting the Return to Work & School

How can businesses and schools prepare for the healthy and safe return of their employees and students?

The Challenge

Back to Work

In a survey of 472 employees exclusively working from home, conducted by Glassdoor and The Harris Poll, 72% are eager to return to the office.¹

Back to School*

According to the College Crisis Initiative, at least 1,450 colleges and universities in the US are bringing students back to campus in some form in 2020.²

The Solution

Inform. Connect. Empower.

NAVIFY Remote Monitor enables more informed decisions, connection and the empowerment of organizations and individuals

NAVIFY Remote Monitor

A secure, data-driven decision support solution that collects self-reported risk factors and displays recommendations based on CDC and institution-set guidelines for individuals returning to work or school during the COVID-19 pandemic

How It Works

Mobile app automatically and securely links user data to a dashboard through a secure cloud infrastructure

1 Users complete a survey and report health conditions daily via a mobile app

2

3 Dashboard yields real-time recommendations based on CDC and local public health guidance, as well as organization policies

Front desk personnel confirm individuals are cleared to enter the building

4

Features

Customization

Organizations can create multiple risk-stratification questionnaires that are specific to their campus, department or site

Privacy & Security

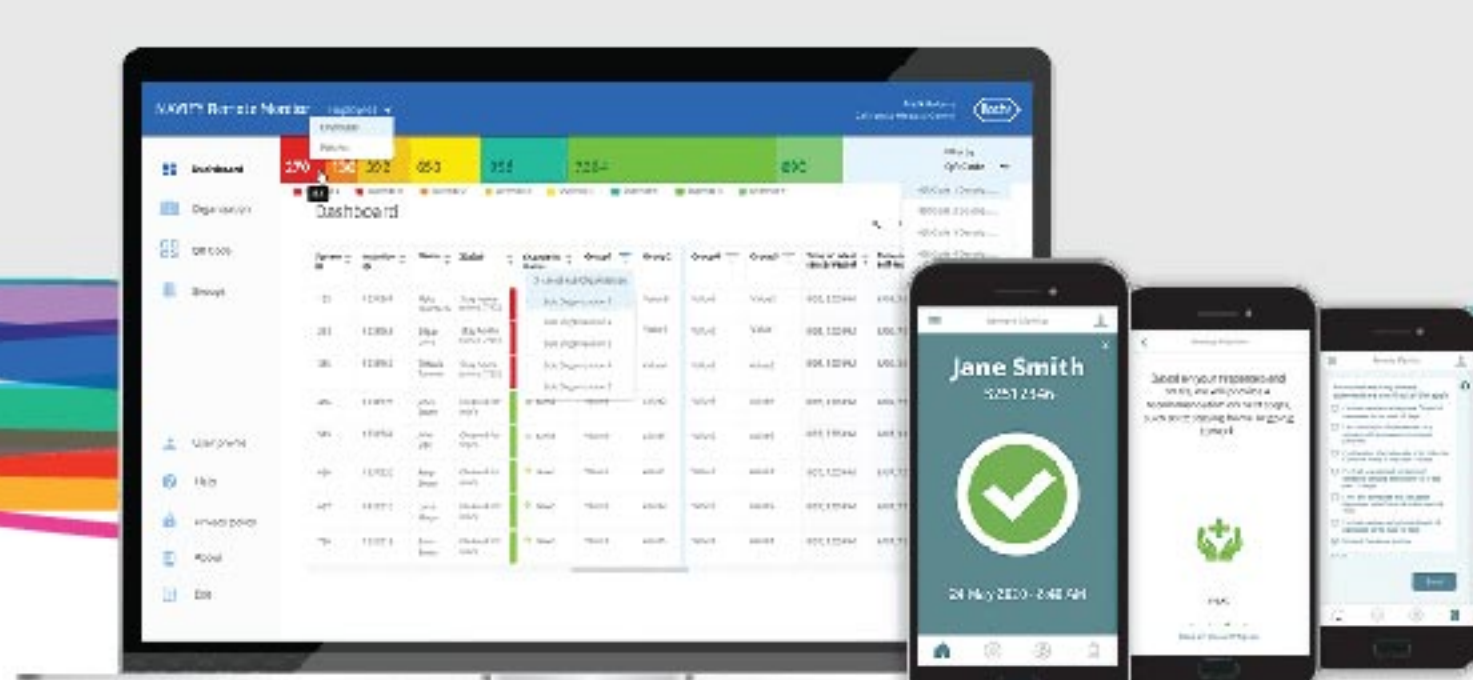

NAVIFY Remote Monitor adheres to privacy and employment laws, securing and protecting individuals' data to enable privacy and data protection

Seamless Management

Administrators can create and check the status of multiple panels of users in the web dashboard
